test to-day shows increasing activity and it is evident to all that a crists is rapidly approaching. Gossip is no longer directed so much to the relative claims of candidates as to speculation regarding the probable withdrawal of the weaker aspirants. At the various headquart-ers of the five candidates this merning it was conceded from present indications with every man remaining in the field no nomination would be possible on the first ballet. With four-fifths of the Democratic Congressmen in the city this morning, indefinite cialins are no longer pos-sible since every man is quite free to express his preference for his favorite candidate, THE BELATIVE POSITIONS OF THE VARIOUS CAN at the present writing seem to be as follows: Crisp first, Mills second. Springer third, McMillan fourth and Hatch fith.

Streethand Hatch fith.

Streethaus effects are being made to-day to effect the withdraws! of certain minor candidates by working the disintegration of their forces. Only in the candidaty of Springer have there been any disquieting evidences of possible disintegration. The lowar delegation, which up to this time has been unfailtering in its allegiance to Springer, this morning metand again expressed its individual and collective preference for Springer, but decided should events indicate Crisp might be nominated on the first ballot, the vote of the entire delegation would be thrown to Mills' ere the conclusion of the first ballot, the yote of the entire delegation would be thrown to Mills' ere the conclusion of the first ballot, to prevent that result. Representative larges, spokesman of the delagation, said to an Associated Press reporter: "We desire it understood we are for Springer just as long as there is a possibility of his election. We are unanimous and will vote as a unit. Should it become evident between now and the date of the caucus that Crisp is likely to be nominated on the first ballot we will even up on the imital ballot, and

CAST OUR VOTES SOLIDLY FOR MILLS, o prevent such a result. We will do this be-cause we are convinced the sentiment of the treat northwest is for Mills as opposed to

Crisp."

Other followers of Springer do not seem to be at all alarmed by the conclusions of the lows delegation, as they say the contingency upon which their desertion is to be based will upon which their desertion is to be based will never arise.

Springer's adherents were cheouraged to-day by the decision of the entire Michigan delegation with the exception of chipman, to support their candidate. This delegation will have a formal meeting to morrow atternoon and will endeavor to act as a unit. Springer still claims fitty-serie votes and is counting on the support of Holman, of Indiana, but other candidates do not concede him over thirty-live or forty. The friends of Mills are hopeful of transferring mearly all the votes now pledged to Springer to their candidate, and on their belief in the success of this endeavor they express confidence in victory, relying upon the impetus given to Mills by the announcement of the great and northwest to rally to their standard nearly all the doubtul votes and to cause breaks from other candidates on the part of the preases in the contraction of the preases the contraction of the preases the processing the works to be on the cause breaks from other candidates on the part of the representatives who wish to be on the side of the winning candidate. Adherents of the two leaders express directly antagonistic views as to the probability of Springer's with-drawal being forced and also of the result of such withdrawal.

The announcement was a tunnder clap to the lowa delegation. During the attenuon Hayes, leader of the lowa men, after a short conference with Mills, said: "I am prepared to take the responsibility of being the first man to desert Springer. Our present intentions are to remain with him till the end unless the breaking is led by some of his other friends." This interpreted to mean that Fithian, Forman, Newberry and Wise, all of Illinois, must first desert Springer in favor of Mills. The Post to-day prints an interview with him wherein he is quoted as saying: "Pelygany in Utsh is a thing of the past and will never be revived there any more than slavery will be in the Dis-trict of Columbia. The People's or Mormon party have formally disbanded, its members party have formally disbanded, its members amiliating with the Democratic or Republican party, and it will not be long until the people of Utah will be divided between the two national parties, notwith-standing the desperate efforts of the rule-or-ruin faction who call themselves Liberals. When I first went to Utah in 1882, and for several years after that, Sait Lake city was one of the most orderly and peaceable cities of which I have any knowledge. Since then they have had a koom and the population has just about doubled in ten years. Most of this accession is chiefly from gentile or non-Mormon immigration. The Liberals, so-called, now control the municipal government and the number of crimes that are of almost daily occurrence, such as murders, burglaries, robberies and other heinous offenses, are simply appalling."

DETRIMENTAL TO HER CLAIMS Sir Charls ridiculed the idea that Russell kept a pistol convenient for the purpose of shooting a platol convenient for the purpose of shooting bis wife. The quarrel between the carl and countess, which occurred at the albemarie hotel at the time they came up to London to attend a levee, was due, not to the earl's compelling the countess to act as valet to lim, as the countess testified, but to the fact the earl refused to allow his wife to go to the Ascot races in the company of a man with whom se had every ground to forbid his wife to essociate. Immediately upon the conclusion of Sir Charles Russell's address, he called

THE PIRST WITNESS FOR THE DEFENSE. The witness was Prof. Roberts, mathemati cal master at Bath, who was staying frequently at the residence of Earl Russell. The letters that passes between the earl and Prof. Roberts were then put in evi-dence to show the relations that existed be-tween them.

Earl Russell followed the professor on the stand. Witness testified he never heard the stand. Witness testified he never heard the slightest objection made to the presence of Prof. Roberts in his house. He (witness) objected to his wife going to a certain lady's house, and based his objection on the fact that the indy was diversed. Countess Russell was very much put out by his objections to her visits to the lady's house, and in a quarrel that followed witness said to her: "If you say such things you will soon be sorry you married me." The countess recibied: "So I am sorry. The cari declared he never insisted the countess should dress him. If she had not requested him to allow her to dress him he would not have let her have done so. He was very much attached to her and had tried to make things pleasant for her.

HE OBJECTED TO HER GOING TO ASCOT for the reason there were several persons there whom he did not wish her to meet.

The fact was positively ascertained by your correspondent while investigating some of the threatened to throw herself out of the window if he remained in the room with her. The earl declared the statements made by the countess that he left her and went to Prof. Roberts' bedroom was absolutely faise. There was not the slightest reason to suggest any inpropriety between himself and Prof. Roberts. The earl admitted he once used the word "barren" in conversation with his wife, but he only used it in fun. He denied the cruelty to cats that had been attributed to him Further questioned, the earl stated he did not think his wife's health or nerves suffered during her married life. Her aliments were caused by unaccustomed restraints.

first, better plate of American manufacture has been produced than the department was able to purchase abroad a year ago. Secondly, it has developed a new principle in the manufacture of armor of American origin, which there are good grounds for believing will furnish greater protection to the vital parts of vessels of war than any other system hitherto employed. A further notable advantage has been developed by the above tests, the importance of which to the United States at this juncture will be easily appreciated it has been definitely established that armor of excellent quality may be produced by the roller process, and that forging by means of the hammmer is not absolutely necessary, a matter regarding which grave doubts exsisted among artillerists for years. It is probable that within eignteen months, with relatively slight expenditure, the present producing capacity of the United States could be quadrupled in case such an expense should become necessary. The price at present paid should be materially reduced for the same reasons of native competition and fact of necessity of extraordinary changes in or additions to plants. In connection with the subject of transporting overland heavy guns, the report strongly urges the establishment of a national gun factory on the Pacific coast similar to that in Washington.
